Current Job/Internships Market Analysis

- Only big companies come for campus placements.
- The packages offered by these companies are not attractive in comparison to city where job is offered.
- Small companies and local companies are not able to come for campus placements because
 - They have less number of positions open;
 - The cost involved for conducting campus placements is high;
 - The companies do not have adequate staff for conducting campus placements.
- Campus placements Process is a long and a tedious activity for all prospective employers, jobseekers and institutes.
- In case of internships, the students are not going for credible programmes due to unavailability or high cost in metro cities & 90% companies do not provide internship opportunities.
 - The students either go for fake certificates or:
 - The internships provided by big companies in small cities is generally direct product sales.
 - The students thus rely on training institutes who charge a very high cost and do not teach anything concrete.
 - The colleges do not have a track of the performance of the students during Internships.
- Maintaining complete database of the current companies hiring is tedious task for the college and a lot of valuable time and cost is wasted on getting through to the companies than spent on actual recruitments.
